Friday 5th January 2024 - KUILS RIVER Junior Championship

WP Junior Golf wishes to encourage the participation of ALL club's juniors, who are "course ready", for the Junior Championship.

In order to achieve this, the invitation is extended to all juniors (18 or younger) to participate in YOUR specific club Junior Championship - at no cost to the player.

If Juniors wish to play in any of the other events, the online entry facility on the WP Golf website is available.

The "Path to Junior & Development Club Success" initiative will also be discussed, that will further assist the encouragement of additional juniors to play this great game.

If you have any queries whatsoever please do not hesitate to contact. Peter Little (084 656 1102)

TIP FROM THYS...

Before taking your swing, close your eyes for a moment and vividly visualize the perfect shot. Imagine the trajectory, the ball's flight, and where it lands. This mental imagery helps create a positive and focused mindset. When you open your eyes, trust your body to replicate the image you just visualized. This mental rehearsal can enhance your confidence, improve your concentration, and lead to more precise and successful shots on the golf course.

Just joking...

At the zany golf charity event, Brent, a devoted golfer with a penchant for pranks, decided to add a splash of absurdity to his game. He rigged his golf bag with a hidden speaker playing quirky sound effects and brought a rubber chicken as his unofficial caddy. As he teed off, the chicken squawked in rhythmic encouragement. Onlookers couldn't contain their laughter as Brent performed a series of chicken-inspired dance moves between shots. Surprisingly, Brent's unorthodox approach didn't hinder his game; in fact, he aced a challenging hole with a triumphant chicken cluck. The uproarious laughter that ensued turned Brent into an instant legend, proving that sometimes, in the world of golf, a little fowl play can lead to extraordinary success.

And finally...
