Keys to driving the golf ball better

1. Choke Down

- If you normally hold your grip all the way at the butt end of the grip, choke down 1-2 inches. A choked down grip will give you more confidence and is an easy thing to do when you need to hit those straight drives. It is sometimes the smallest things that make the biggest difference and I have found that this tactic to be one of the easiest and quickest ways to hit it straighter.

2. Shorten your Backswing

- Don't take a full backswing. Getting your arms to 3/4 of your full swing will still give you good distance, but will allow you to maintain better control to hit those straighter drives. The distance lost to swing 3/4 is marginal. As golfer's tend to hit it more solid with a shorter backswing which leads to those higher smash factor numbers which in turn leads to further drives.

3. Pick a Target

- Find your target landing location and then visualize a line going from the golf ball to the target. Use this line to pick out a spot that is 10cm out in front of your golf ball. Focus on hitting your golf ball over that spot 10cm away. Picking a target that is in your sight during the swing makes aiming much easier.

4. Swing Tempo

- One of my favourite things to talk about in the golf swing and cannot be overlooked when we talk about driving the golf ball better. Keep a nice smooth swing tempo at all times and this will without a doubt help making your driving more consistent.

Goodluck and enjoy the festive golf!

Message from the Pro!

GIMMES - A gimme is a short putt conceded by an opponent because it is deemed unmissable. It is still counted as a shot but the player does not actually go through the motions of playing it.

A person may give their opponent a gimme in match play however, they are not permitted in any other competitive format. This includes medal (stroke) play, stableford competition or any other format in which a player's handicap is calculated.

So moving forward please make sure you finish the hole, failure to do so will result in disqualification.

Thank you for understanding.
