2 MAY 2025 - YOUR KUILSRIVIER GOLF CLUB TEAM...

BRINGING YOUR CLUB CLOSER...

Dear Members

We would like to inform you that our annual review of food and beverage pricing has been completed. As always, our goal is to offer great quality at fair value while maintaining the high standards you've come to expect.

Due to rising costs in food supplies and the increase in excise (sin) tax on alcoholic beverages, we have had to implement modest price adjustments across our menu and bar offerings. (Effective 2nd May 2025).

Please rest assured that we have done our utmost to keep these increases to an absolute minimum, and we continue to seek ways to absorb costs wherever possible without compromising on quality or service.

We truly appreciate your understanding and continued support. Should you have any questions or feedback, we'd be more than happy to chat... Warm regards, The KRGK Team

Pro Tip... Playing in Wet Conditions

I'd like to share a tip about playing on a wet course, one that I think could help most golfers.

Not long ago, one area that I really needed to improve on was my short game when conditions were "soft." Think about it, how many times have you, or someone in your group, chunked or bladed a chip when playing on a wet course? I know I've done it, and I'd bet most of you have, too.

When you are chipping under normal, dry conditions, the bounce of your club adds an element of forgiveness. Under "soft" conditions, your club is more prone to dig into the ground, thus creating the "fat" shot.

So how do you avoid these pitfalls?

You avoid them by hitting the ball first, but not hitting the ball only. In other words, don't try to "pick" the ball cleanly.

Play the ball just a touch further back in your stance; for me that means about half a ball further back. Again, this ensures that you contact the ball first. Then take a little extra-lofted club, perhaps a sand wedge rather than a pitching wedge, or a lob wedge rather than a sand wedge, and "close the face a little." The delofting of the shot comes from playing a touch back in the stance.

Now, very importantly, the same fundamentals of the short game still apply. Keep your hands in front of the ball and always moving left (for right-handed golfers). Your club can and should contact the ground.

The ball will come out lower but will check up for you. I'd suggest practicing this shot to get a good feel for your distances. But this technique is easy to implement into your game and will help you lower scores when playing on a wet course.
